

I've Been There

Copyright 1998 ~ David L. Burrier

Have you ever had times, when no strength you could find
And the pressures of life weighed you down
I have felt that same way, and all I can say
There is hope if you'll only hang on.

Have you ever felt fear or lost someone dear
Are you lonely or full of despair?
Many know how you feel. For them it's been real
I can say that I know. I've been there.

Bridge: But there's one who knows best, than all of the rest.
A world full of pain He can see.
Through all that you are facing, may you feel His arms embracing.
He forgives and sets free.

So no matter where you've been, or if your life's full of sin.
When you feel there's no reason to be.
Turn to God and say a prayer. I promise He'll be there.
This I know cause He's been there for me.

Yes I know. I know.
I know cause He's been there for me.
